A major hemoglobin (Hb) fragment, 67 kDa, has been isolated from the liver of the spiny dogfish (Squalus acanthias) by alcohol fractionation, ion exchange chromatography, and gel permeation. (2014) Introduction We have just published some preliminary statistical results from a two-year study on the linguistic and social influences of the Roma in seven communities in India, as part of the project "Roma in India: Linguistic Interactions and Placement Problems" (2013–2015). Our results show that the Roma in our study communities use mostly Sanskrit words, and that their speech patterns exhibit features characteristic of other Indic languages. The majority of speakers reported themselves to be bilingual in the local language (in Bengali) and Sanskrit. However, our survey also showed that the Roma are largely unaware of the nature and usage of the Sanskrit language, and for the most part, they can only recognise it as a 'foreign' language.Q: Checking values in array of multidimensional arrays with PHP Please give me some suggestions to accomplish the following logic I have an array of arrays as follows Array ([0] => Array ([user_id] => 1 [reply_to] => 1) [1] => Array ([user_id] => 1 [reply_to] => 2) [2] => Array
