* **Jobs and Apprenticeships:** There are different types of jobs that you can take on using Photoshop. Usually you start with a standard college or university program that trains you in one area of particular expertise, and then you take on a variety of different jobs that you can continue to work on after college or university. Some of these programs include Adobe's Creative Suite, which is a training program consisting of Photoshop, Illustrator, Dreamweaver, InDesign, and Flash. ## Pictographics Image manipulation programs such as Photoshop let you create anything from professional-looking charts and graphs to layouts of digital artwork. As with any piece of software, you can learn to master Photoshop by following tutorials, or you can just use it for creating personal images for yourself or others. The following sections introduce the core tools you need to start doing more than digital photography.

Q: PHP - Parse data from a string and insert into SQL I have been searching the internet for a while trying to figure out what i'm doing wrong. I'm attempting to fetch data from an external script and insert them into a local mysql database. The script returns data in a very strange format, but at least it does something. Here is the script: `function dbQuery($q, $type = "", $return_info = FALSE) { include_once 'db/db.php'; global $db; $sql = 'SELECT id FROM db.labels'; $id = $db->select_one($sql); $sql = 'INSERT INTO db.labels SET...'; $id = $db->insert_one($sql); if ($return_info == TRUE) { print $id; } } If i put var_dump($id); at the end of the script, i get the following: string(4) "2" How would i take that string and properly insert it into the SQL query? A: You could try outputting the $id as JSON, like this: if ($return_info == TRUE) { print json_encode($id); } The resulting JSON output will look something like this: { "id":2 } Then, when you're writing the data to the database, you can use a JSON function to convert it to a string like this: $sql = 'INSERT INTO db.labels SET...'; $id = $db->insert_one($sql, json_decode($id)); Extending the Opportunity on Education The Opportunities Scholarship Program (OSP) provides educational support services to students including free tutoring, college financial counseling, career advising, school-based mental health services, and on-campus transition support. This financial aid program, originally named the Financial Assistance Program (FAP), has helped many students succeed and overcome challenges, earn degrees, and enter the workforce. The 2014 OSP budget request is $6,880,000, a $1 million increase over the current year. My apologies in advance;`

What's New In?

Let's take a look at the main brushes in Photoshop CS5: Brush Tool The brush tool can be used for a variety of effects. It can be used to paint on images, draw shapes, apply gradients, and so on. To use the brush tool, simply click and hold down on a pixel, and it appears in your toolbox. From the toolbox, you can select the brush size and style. You can even layer the brush to create effects such as stippling and shading. Clicking and dragging is the primary way to move and drag the brush across the image. When you release the mouse button, the brush's pixels continue to overwrite the existing pixels. You can also rotate, resize, copy, and move the brush by holding the Alt key, and pressing one of the arrow keys. You can also drag and zoom the brush by pressing Ctrl and the plus (+) or minus (-) key. Let's use the brush tool to paint on this background. The paint bucket is a variant of the brush tool. It has more features such as erasing, which takes away pixels from the layer. Paint Bucket Tool The paint bucket tool is a variant of the brush tool. It offers the same functions, but does so in a much more efficient way. To use the paint bucket tool, make sure that you are using the right tool size. You can select the brush size by clicking and dragging the image's edge. You can also select the brush style by clicking and dragging the tip. You can delete your strokes by pressing Delete. To fill an area with a color, click once, then hold down the Alt key and press the color's name. The Eraser The eraser tool allows you to erase, or "cleanse", an area by pressing Ctrl+E. The eraser has an Oval shape in the toolbox. You can simply click and drag to outline the area you want to erase. Pressing the Alt key indicates that you have selected the tool's color. Pressing Alt+G selects the current foreground color. Let's use the eraser to clean up some of the dirt from the previous brush strokes. Even though you have the Eraser tool selected, the outline of the eraser is indicated with a green background color. If you want to deselect the eraser, just
